Contents of Volume 58

Number 1

1 Bearing stress between a circumferential key and its keyway
B. W. SHAFFER (USA)

9 A promising method for enhancing resistance of pressure vessels to brittle fracture
V. V. POKROVSKY, V. T. TROSHCHENKO, V. G. KAPLUNENKO, V. Y. PODKOL'ZIN, V. G. FIODOROV & Y. G. DRAGUNOV (Ukraine)

25 Fatigue crack propagation in a high stress concentration area
W. WEI, R. WEI & Z. KANGDA (China)

35 The information from ultrasonic testing of anticorrosive cladding and the effect of cladding defects on metal strength
B. T. TIMOFEEV, M. V. ROZINA, L. M. JABLONIK & V. P. ULIN (Russia)

41 On the unloading solution by viscoplastic BEM of axisymetric pressure vessels with three material hardening models
L. YONG & H. QICHAO (China)

51 Thermodynamical model of reversible R-phase transformation in TiNi shape memory alloy
C. LEXCELLENT (France), H. TOBUSHI (Japan), A. ZIÓŁKOWSKI (Poland) & K. TANAKA (Japan)

59 Stress distribution in a ring subjected internally to a pair of eccentrically applied point loads
D.-L. MA (China)

65 Instability of semi-ellipsoidal shells
M. W. UDDIN & M. M. HAQUE (Bangladesh)

75 Computing the frictional contact loads of horizontal steel pipes, loosely resting on saddles
C. D. BISBOS, K. THOMOPOULOS & M. TZAFEROPOULOS (Greece)

87 The combined effect of applied and residual stresses on crack extension in an engineering component
E. SMITH (UK)

91 PTS integrity study in Japan
MISHIMA, Y., S. ISHINO, M. ISHIKAWA, H. OKAMURA, G. YAGAWA, T. HIDAKA, T. YAMAMOTO, J. SANOH, K. KOYAMA, M. IIDA, Y. URABE, M. SATO & M. TOMIMATSU (Japan)

103 Fatigue threshold in steels—Mean stress and microstructure influences
J. H. BULLOCH (Ireland)

129 Announcements

Number 2

131 Improved fatigue life of an autofrettaged thick-walled pressure vessel with an external groove
S. K. KOH (South Korea) & R. I. STEPHENS (USA)

147 On the ovalisation in bending of nylon and plastic tubes
G. N. KARAM (USA)

151 Effects of strain rate and temperature on tensile deformation and fracture behaviour of forged thick section 9Cr–1Mo ferritic steel
B. K. CHOUDHARY, K. B. S. RAO & S. L. MANNAN (India)

161 Fracture assessment methods for steel and concrete structures: Contrasts and similarities
E. SMITH (UK)

171 Analysis of weld toe radius effects on fatigue weld toe cracks
H. L. J. PANG (Singapore)

179 On the problem of angular misalignment at longitudinal weld joints of cylindrical shells
J. L. ZEMAN (Austria)

185 Elastic stress solution for a circular ring subjected to partially distributed traction on the outer wall and its application to a cracked ring
D.-L. MA (China)

191 Research on crack arrest of prestressed wire-wrapped cylinders with longitudinal cracks—I. Mechanics analysis
X. WEI & F. YANG (China)

197 A comparison of several boiler tube life prediction methods
K. ZARRABI (Australia)

203 Comparison of local load stress calculation methods for nozzles on cylinders
C. J. DEKKER (The Netherlands)

215 Numerical evaluation of stress intensity factor for vessel and pipe subjected to thermal shock
Y. W. KIM, H. Y. LEE & B. YOO (South Korea)

223 Holographic NDE in pressure vessels and piping
R. K. PENNY & J. GRYZAGORIDIS (South Africa)

231 An appraisal of certain factors which influence toughness restoration (de-embrittlement) in some temper embrittled low alloy steels
J. H. BULLOCH (Ireland)

249 Announcements

Number 3

251 Transition metal joints for steam generators—An overview
A. K. BHADURI, S. VENKADESAN, P. RODRIGUEZ & P. G. MUKUNDA (India)

267 Recent advance in life prediction for HTGR applications
K. KIKUCHI, Y. KAJI & Y. MUTO (Japan)

277 Elastic stress solution for a circular ring subjected to partially distributed traction on the inner wall and its application to a cracked ring
D.-L. MA (China)

283 Computational limit analysis of anisotropic axisymmetric shells
Y.-G. ZHANG & M.-W. LU (China)

289 Comparative study of creep behaviour of 2.25Cr–1Mo Steel and its weldments
S. AHILA, S. RAMAKRISHNA IYER & V. M. RADHAKRISHNAN (India)

295 Simplified analysis for creep stress redistribution of high temperature structures using some finite element results
X. N. WANG & X. C. WANG (China)

303 Process optimization of transient thermal stress field
S. MIN & G. ZHAODONG (China)

309 An out-of-plane displacement solution in toroidal elasticity
Y. ZHU & D. REDEKOP (Canada)

321 The abrasive wear resistance of the carbide groups 6 and 8 hardfacing microstructures—The effect of abradent type
J. H. BULLOCH (Ireland) & J. L. HENDERSON (South Africa)

335 Intelligent materials—An overview
S. S. IYER & Y. M. HADDAD (Canada)

345 Design against creep failure for weldments in 0.5Cr0.5Mo0.25V pipe
S.-T. TU, R. WU & R. SANDSTRÖM (Sweden)

355 New method in design and manufacturing of fluid-filled multi-layered spherical pressure vessels
J. HASHEMI, J. HELM, C. L. SHEETS & A. A. TSENG (USA)

361 Structure optimization and damage behaviour of heat-resistant CrMoV tube steels
P. LENK & B. MELZER (Germany)

373 Announcement
